~In Philippines

- Coordinated bombs at a cathedral in Jolo, southern Philippines, killed at least 20 people and injured over 80. The first bomb went off during the church service; the second exploded outside the door as people fled and troops responded to the disaster. The blast happened less than a week after a referendum in which the people of Mindanao voted in favour of setting up a Muslim-controlled region in southern Philippines. Please remember those who were injured and families of those who were killed. May those responsible experience the conviction leading them to repentance.
